REPORT NO.

1. On 1 September 1948 there were only 181 Chinese Communist troops in Chiamussu (130-21,46-49). Eighty-six were troops of the Hochiang Provincial Guard Unit under the command of K'ANG Yu-hsin (康又新), and 95 were troops of two under-strength companies and one platoon of the 3 Battalion of the Hochiang Military District Garrison Regiment.
2. On 2 August 1948 all hsien magistrates of the Hochiang Provincial Government were ordered to take a complete census of each hsien. All persons, regardless of age or sex, must fill in questionnaires which are to be returned to the provincial government before January 1949.
3. Persons over 15 wishing to leave the district in which they live must secure exit permits.
4. Every district of each hsien in Hochiang Province was ordered to organize at least four self-defense units before 15 December 1948. Each unit was to have twenty men locally recruited and equipped with arms purchased by the villagers from the hsien administration office.
5. The Hochiang Rural Pacification Commission, which has four departments -- General Affairs, Propaganda, Intelligence and Liquidation -- is organizing a garrison detachment. The commander of the detachment will be appointed by the Hochiang Military District Headquarters.
6. Rural Pacification Committees are being organized in each hsien of Hochiang Province. The hsien magistrate will be the committee chairman for his hsien.
7. Training centers for village chiefs and assistant chiefs were to be opened on 5 November 1948 in the following hsien:

Fangcheng (128-51,45-50)	Lopei (130-53,47-53)	Huachuan (130-44,47-04)
Jian (129-33,46-19)	Haolikan (130-17,47-05)	Fuchin (131-59,47-14)
Foshan (130-30,48-39)	Tangyuan (129-53,46-52)	Tungchiang (132-29,47-39)
Suipin (132-01,47-21)	Tungho (128-52,45-58)	Fuyuan (134-24,48-22)

The hsien magistrate was to be in charge of each training center. The course
